SAIL to Laos with us!

An eight-week intensive program in Vientiane, Laos

What better way to learn Lao than to spend your summer fully immersed in Lao society?

Join our program, where you'll have the opportunity to study at the Lao-American College in Vientiane, the capital city of Laos and interact with the Lao on a daily basis. Program highlights include:

- An intensive Lao language course
- A Lao and Lao American history and culture course (or an elective) course
- Classroom guest speakers
- Cultural excursions throughout the city and provinces
- Home stay opportunities
- Optional volunteer work program with a local or international organization
- Highly qualified program leader, San Francisco State University faculty, and Lao teachers

Credit transfer to U.S.A. colleges and universities is available through San Francisco State University's Asian American Studies Department.

Program Eligibility:

Open to both undergraduate and graduate students, educators, and education administrators as well as those interested in Lao, Lao American, Southeast Asian, and Asian cultures and society. Must be 18 years or older. Please contact the Center for Lao Studies to determine your qualification.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2010
